CONCERT OF THE GREAT NATIONS AS TRUSTEES FOR WORLD PEACE WILSON'S DEMAND IN GUILD HALL

Occasion of President's Speech in Famous Guild Hall, London, Marks an Epoch in the History of the World

LEADERS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE
CHEER PRESIDENT'S UTTERANCES

Men Who Fought the War Have Been Men From Free Nations Who Are Determined That This Sort of Thing
Must End

LONDON, DECEMBER 28. — (Associated Press)—Speaking today in the historic Guild Hall at a ceremonious gathering of Great Britain's most distinguished statesmen President Wilson reaffirmed his principle that there must no longer be a balance of power which might unsettle the peace of the world, but the future must produce a concert of power which would preserve it.

The President's reception at the hall was so spontaneous and hearty that it carried an unmistakable note of friendship and admiration.

When he arose to speak there was a prolonged outburst of applause and he was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause.

At the conclusion of his address the audience arose with one accord and cheered, and it kept up the applause and cheering as he passed out.

In the course of his speech the President declared he had sought to do away with the old order and establish a new one. The old order, he said, had for its center the "unstable thing" called the balance of power, determined by competitive interests, "jealous watchfulness" and "an antagonism of interests."

The men who have fought the war, he said, have been "men from free nations who were determined that this sort of thing should end now and forever."

NATIONS TO BE TRUSTEE

The suggestion for a concert of power to replace the balance of power, he remarked, was coming now from every quarter and from every sort of mind. The concert to come, he declared, must not see a balance of power or one powerful group of nations set off against another, but "a single overwhelming powerful group of nations which shall be the trustees of the peace of the world."

The minds of the leaders of the British Government, the President said, were moving along the same line as his own, and their thought had been that the key to peace was the guarantee of it and not the items of it. The items of it, he said, would be worthless unless a concert of power stood back of them.

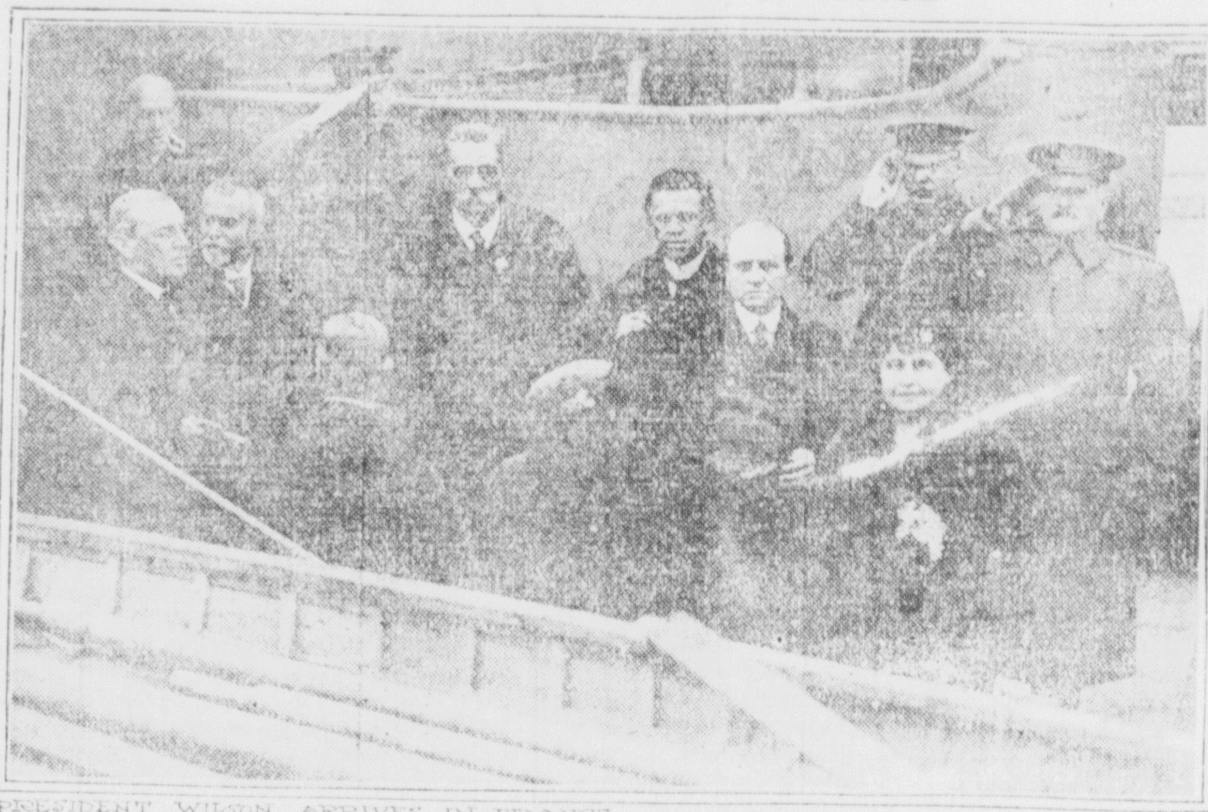

No such potent union of purpose had ever been seen in the world before, he said, as that which now demands a concert of power to preserve the world's peace.

FIND HIDDEN SUBMARINES

LONDON, DECEMBER 27.—(British Wireless Service)—Bearing an allied commission which has inspected German naval bases and airship and seaplane stations under the terms of the armistice, the British battleship Hercules has returned to her home port. During a trip fraught with peril many German ports were visited and preliminary arrangements for surrender of German warships were made.

The submarine commission under Lieutenant Commander Bower pushed its investigation assiduously at Hamburg, Bremen, and other points with the result that scores of U-boats, nearly all near completion and hitherto undisclosed by the Germans, were found and reported. Admiral Gotte protested to the last against giving up the submarines, but at a final conference consented.

DESIGNATED FOR EARLY RELEASES

Demobilization of The United States Forces Proceeding Rapidly at Home and Overseas.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 28.—More than 1,100,000 American soldiers at home and abroad have been designated for demobilization since the armistice was signed.

General March gave the figures today as 937,000 men in home units and 168,000 men and 6,800 officers assigned by General Pershing for early convey home from France.

This includes men already discharged and those who have landed from France. Today official report show 533,334 men and 35,409 officers actually discharged. Complete reports for the week just ended are expected to raise the total at least 100,000.

In reply to a question General March said that no additional American troops had been ordered to Russia and that the War Department had no information that the French army had taken over a portion of the sector on the Rhine assigned to the American forces. He said also that nothing had reached the Department to show the total strength of the allied and American forces in the army of occupation.

EXCHANGES OF VIEWS

(By Associated Press)

Paris, December 28.—One of the most prominent delegates to the conference now in Paris said today that the exchanges of the last few days had resulted in an agreement on the principles of virtually all questions including the reconciling of different view points on the question of the freedom of the seas.

Premier Clemenceau, it is reported, has informed his intimate friends that his three conferences with President Wilson and Colonel E. M. House have resulted in a complete understanding. As the result of these reports peace delegation circles take a much more optimistic view of the outlook of the peace congress than they did a week ago.

Members of the American delegation attach significance to the President's conferences with Lloyd George and Balfour and to his speech at Buckingham Palace last night.

CANADIAN VOTE

(By Associated Press)

London, December 28.—(Via Montreal)—The election results at four o'clock this afternoon were as follows: Coalitionists, 296; non-Coalitionists, 144.

ENGLAND'S PREMIER IS THE WINNER

Asquith, Former Premier, Was Defeated For Seat in Commons

Victory of Lloyd George is a Decisive One

(By Associated Press)

London, December 28.—All indications at three o'clock this afternoon were that Premier Lloyd George and his government would have an overwhelming majority in the new House of Commons.

Herbert H. Asquith, former Premier and leader of the Liberal party, has been defeated for his seat in the House of Commons from the east Division of Fife, Scotland.

Of the 353 members whose election had been announced so far not less than 274 support the government. The new house will have 707 members. Of the members already elected 198 are coalition Unionists and 76 are coalition Liberals.

The independent Unionists have elected eight members and the Asquithian Liberals only five. Labor has 35 members, the Irish Nationalists, one, the Sinn Féiners 26 and there are four Independents.

It is probable therefore that the Laborites will be the second strongest party in the house, as the Sinn Féiners will refrain from attendance at Westminster. The Laborites have lost two of their most prominent leaders in defeat of Arthur Henderson and Philip Snowden.

Of the 14 women candidates only five so far know their fate and they all have been defeated.

POSTERS PROCLAIM IRISH REPUBLIC

Sinn Féiners Are Emphatic In Demonstrations and Expressions.

(By Associated Press)

London, December 28.—Posters will appear in every parish in Ireland today announcing that the Irish Republic has come into being, says the Express.

The newspaper adds that the Sinn Féiners in the recent election elected Leinster, Munster and Connaught.

Seventy members of Parliament were elected by the party, but they will not take their seats. It is stated by the Express that a Central Sinn Féin council will be established in Dublin almost immediately and will call itself the Irish Parliament. If the government orders its disbandment, it is stated, it will establish itself elsewhere and if necessary move from place to place.

GOES TO AUSTRALIA

ADMIRAL JELlicoe.

Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, of the British Navy, will visit Australia in February, according to a dispatch from Melbourne. Admiral Jellicoe will review the question of the Commonwealth's naval base programme.

WEATHER

Washington, December 28. — (Associated Press)

—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday issued today for the Ohio Valley and Tennessee are:

Generally fair, although some slight prospects of rain or snow in the Ohio Valley Monday or Tuesday. Somewhat higher temperatures early in the week.

OVERTHROW OF PRESENT HUN POWER

While the Present Government Denies Existence of a Crisis Developments Disclose Imminence of Disaster

(By Associated Press)

Berlin, December 27.—While the government continues to deny the existence of a crisis, developments appear to be rapidly approaching the point where the Ebert-Haase cabinet will no longer be able to assert its authority.

The Berlin newspapers reflect the apprehension pervading all circles.

The Vossische Zeitung, for instance, says that the six men who sign for the government are no longer the government and it calls upon the newly created central council of soldiers and workmen to assume the responsibility.

ENTIRE FAMILY IN GREAT WAR

Four sons in the military service, one son serving the American Red Cross and the father with the Y. M. C. A. overseas.

That is 100 per cent war record of the family of A. O. Williams, Rockford, Ill.

A. O. Williams.

When the armistice was signed, the father was up at the front as a Y. M. C. A. secretary with the army in France. He had been there since August. His oldest son, Corporal Howard I. Williams, was at a rest camp in England recovering from a wound received in August, and the next oldest son, Sergeant George M. Williams, severely gassed a short time before, was recovering in a hospital in France.

Roy C. Williams, the third son, enlisted as a cavalryman, but his troop was changed into battery B, 79th field artillery, at Fort Riley, Kansas. He went to France as an artilleryman, getting into the fight in the latter part of the war.

The fourth son, Chief Electrician Paul G. Williams, aspired to be an aviator and took the field training at Pensacola, Florida.

At Harvard university, where he took the technical course in naval aviation, he made a record that caused him to be assigned to the university as an instructor in the navy aviation school.

Eager "to get into the game" with his brothers, the youngest son, Carl C. Williams, fifteen, barred from the military service on account of his age, enlisted in the Red Cross service at Camp Grant. There he was destined to take a man's part in the apparently hopeless but finally victorious fight against the influenza epidemic that claimed the lives of 1,091 soldiers at Camp Grant.

And among the bravest of the brave must be placed the name of the mother who kept the fires burning in the home where the service flag in the front window bears the scars of four fighting men between the triangle and the cross.

THANKS Y. M. C. A.

(By Associated Press)
Paris, December 28.—General Pershing has sent the following message to E. C. Carter, secretary of the American expeditionary forces of the Y. M. C. A.: "With a deep feeling of gratitude for the enormous contribution which the Young Men's Christian Association has made to the moral and physical welfare of the American army, all ranks join me in sending you Christmas greetings and cordial best wishes for the new year."

LARGE AMOUNT OF WINTER PLOWING

An unusually large amount of winter plowing has been taking place during the past few weeks, and indications are that if weather permits the percentage of plowing during the winter months will set a new record in Fayette county.

There is every indication that Fayette county farmers are preparing to plant a great acreage of corn next year, the crop the past season having been insufficient to meet the needs of the county—a thing entirely new in this county.

Farm work is advanced more than usual at this period of the year, the bulk of the corn having been husked, other work given attention, and plowing proceeding in a very satisfactory manner.

BUSINESS DEAL IN JEFFERSONVILLE

A business deal of more than passing interest has been closed in Jeffersonville, whereby the Jeffersonville Auto Company becomes owner of the bakery building, located immediately south of the present garage of the company, and which has been owned by the Jeffersonville Grange.

The new purchase will give the concern a frontage of 66 feet on the main street and extend back to the alley a distance of 165 feet. It is probable the garage will be extended to include the new building.

HARRY DERN BUYS THE MANHATTAN

Mr. Harry Dern, who several months ago purchased of Mr. Frank Bending a half interest in the Manhattan Restaurant and Billiard Parlors, on East Court street, is now sole owner of this popular place, having purchased the entire interest of Mr. Bending, it is announced.

Mr. Dern's host of friends unite in extending to him hearty well wishes for success. He will continue to conduct the Manhattan in the same high class manner as heretofore.

Mr. Bending has not announced his future plans.

CHRISTMAS JOY IN CHILDREN'S HOME

Christmas was joyously celebrated in the Children's Home, where Supt. and Mrs. T. S. Pinkerton had put forth every effort to give the children the royal good time they had.

There was a splendid tree and Santa Claus appeared to their great delight. The children presented a pleasing little program.

The children received more than the usual number of gifts and the management is indebted to the W. C. T. U., Craig Bros., The Ideal Store, Supt. O. S. Nelson and a number of "unknown" givers.

Supt. and Mrs. Pinkerton had as their guests Mr. Frank Whiteside and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ogan Riley, and daughter of Bloomington.

FORMER RESIDENT CROSSES THE BAR

The following excerpt from the Lancaster Eagle will be read with interest and regret by older friends who remember Mrs. Ferringer during the family's many years of residence in this city. Mr. Ferringer died some years ago.

"Mrs. Samantha Ferringer aged 76 years, widow of the late banker and M. C. A., with a deep feeling of gratitude for the enormous contribution which the Young Men's Christian Association has made to the moral and physical welfare of the American army, all ranks join me in sending you Christmas greetings and cordial best wishes for the new year."

She had had a very hard fall down a flight of stairs a few days ago, that doubt hastened her death.

She is survived by one son, John Ferringer, Jr."

CORPORAL REDDEN IS HOME ON LEAVE

Corporal Joe Redden, member of the crew of the United States Warship Florida, which took part in receiving the surrender of the German fleet in the North Sea, arrived in this city Saturday morning on a 15-day leave of absence to visit his home near Milledgeville. He is a son of Frank Redden, of that community.

Corporal Redden called on H. J. Bliss in this city to give him a message from his son, Eugene, who is aboard the Florida, and after a few minutes spent with other friends here, left for his home, expressing his pleasure at being able to be with his home folks once more after a long absence in overseas duty.

Corporal Redden was one of several fortunate Fayette countians who witnessed the surrender of the big fleet while aboard American ships of war.

DEATH SUMMONS EUNICE COMPTON

Mrs. Eunice E. Compton, one of the well known and esteemed residents of the county, passed away at her home on the Robinson road Friday night at 11:30 o'clock, at the age of 68 years.

The four children, Wert of this city, Mrs. Aaron Rowe and Mrs. Noah Louderman of Austin and Grover at home, have the sympathy of friends both in the city and throughout the entire county in their great loss.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Maple Grove church followed by burial in the Compton cemetery.

NAMES HONORED DEAD ARE WANTED

So far as known the brave sons of Fayette county, who gave their lives in the service of their country during the world war total 32, but it is possible that additional men who entered the service from Fayette Co. may have been included among the dead, and the fact not become known other than to the immediate family and friends.

The Herald is desirous of obtaining a complete list of the honored dead from Fayette county, and if any such are not included in the following list, it will be greatly appreciated if the friends or relatives will notify The Herald at once.

Clarence Downer, John Burke, Henry Larkin, Loren Koonitz, Earl Thomas, Mollie Vance, Clarence M. Harp, Geo. W. Allen, Wesley Sward, Arney Griffith, Fred Hillery, Ralph Chilcote, Ray B. Hamm, Walter W. Hutchison, Glenn Whaley, Carl Lloyd, Ray Vaniman, Herbert Wills, Amos Thornton, Harry Brown, Donald Michael, Clarence Maxwell, Jennings Bland, Pearl Williamson, Beryl Williams, Howard A. Sommers, Addison Funk, Frank Skyles, Wilmer H. Brown, Chas. A. Lones, Howard Spence, Lester Woodruff.

ROLL OF HONOR

Casualties announced today total 320 and include 55 Ohioans, none of whom are from this part of the state. The casualties are divided: Killed in action 90; died of wounds 89; died of accident 32; died of disease 79; wounded severely 445; wounded degree undetermined 43; wounded slightly 37; missing in action 175.

OHIOAN AMONG SOLDIERS WHO ARE DECORATED

(By Associated Press)
Archangel, November 7.—(By Mail)—The seven American soldiers who yesterday received British decorations for gallantry in fighting the Bolsheviks along Volodga railway front were highly praised in the official citations. Lieutenant G. B. Reese, of Milford, N. H., was awarded the Military Cross for having "reconnoitered enemy positions and brought back most useful information which was greatly instrumental in the success of the operations on October 14th." The citation adds that "since joining the column Lieutenant Reese frequently had shown great daring, loyalty, pertinacity and devotion, and given a fine example to his troops."

Sergeant H. G. Hayden, of Athens, O., received the Distinguished Conduct Medal for the operations on October 14. His citation says that he

LORD WEIR RETIRES FROM AIR FORCES

Lord William Weir, Minister of the British Air Forces, has resigned, according to a report from London. The report adds that the air forces will cease to exist as a separate department of the navy and army, but in the future will be administered by the War Office. Lord Weir was successful as Air Minister, and proved himself one of the greatest of war administrators. He was formerly Director-General of Aircraft. He is a brother of Lord Northcliffe.

reconnoitered the ground behind the enemy's rear positions of which the British commander had no previous knowledge. It adds that he always displayed great initiative, coolness, devotion, and courage, and was a fine example to all troops.

Private C. E. Garrett of Kalamazoo Mich., received the Military Medal. His citation says that, having no cover and "without thought of personal danger he discharged his duties with coolness and pertinacity under exceptionally trying circumstances setting an admirable example for all Private Garrett also carried R. W. Rickman, who was wounded, back to a place of safety under heavy shell fire, saving Rickman from the hands of the enemy."

Private L. L. Hopkins of Muir, Ky., was cited for the same reason as Garrett except that he did not participate in saving Rickman.

Corporal W. Shaughnessy of 181 Beaufort Ave., Detroit, and Private J. P. Wagoner of 985 John Street Detroit, and G. Hinman of Linwood Mich., each received the Military Medal for having, the citation says, "carried the telephone wires to our most forward position under heavy machine gun fire. It was entirely due to their devotion and courage that communication was established between our troops. Throughout the operations they displayed loyalty, coolness, and devotion."

HALLEY NOW HAS THE FIELD

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, O., December 28.—By a vote of 50 to 23 the caucus of Republican members-elect to the lower house of the legislature which will convene January 6th, today selected Carl R. Kimball, of Lake County, for Speaker over R. R. Beetham, of Harrison county. As the Republicans have a majority in the house, the caucus action is equivalent to election.

Just prior to the convening of the caucus of Republican members-elect to the new state Senate, W. H. Walker, of Hillsboro, withdrew as a candidate for clerk of the Senate.

This left W. E. Halley, of Greenville, former Senate clerk, as the only avowed candidate for the position.

BIRTHDAY GIFT TO PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press)
London, December 28.—President Wilson celebrated today his 62nd birthday by a round of official activities. King George presented him with a magnificent set of books and at the same time gave gifts to every member of the President's official party.

The women of the party received brooches and the men stickpins set with diamonds forming the letters "G. R."

The president received tokens from Mrs. Wilson and his family. He declared he considered it the best birthday he ever had.

ROYAL BANQUET FOR ASSISTANTS BY W. W. C. MEN

A Brilliant Distinctive Social Event of the Holiday Season.

Affords Members of Fayette War Work Council Opportunity to Express Thanks to Assistants.

A brilliantly successful and distinctive event of the holiday season was the banquet tendered Friday night by the individual members of the Fayette County War Work Council to the singers and speakers who had helped in raising the war chest funds. Invitations had been extended to three musical organizations, the Washington High School Glee Clubs, Miss Kesler's Orchestra, the Bloomington Glee Club and the Good Hope Glee Club. The latter was unable to respond.

The banquet was perfectly served in the large private dining room of the Cherry Hotel by J. H. Culhan, proprietor of the Cherry Hotel Cafeteria.

The scene was one of holiday radiance, flags forming the background for long tables, arranged in the form of an open sided rectangle, illuminated with candles twinkling beneath scarlet shades, and embellished with scarlet and white carnations, also the guest favors, and greenery covers were laid for ninety. An elaborate four course turkey banquet was served, while the wave of good fellowship and spontaneous pleasure rose to the food tide, and between courses the Glee Clubs sang popular and patriotic songs that drew rounds of applause.

As sauce for the pudding, toasts followed the coffee and provided an hour of intense interest and pleasure.

Judge Joseph Hidy brilliantly filled the role of toastmaster, introducing the toasts with a splendid short talk, touching upon the patriotic necessity which had so welded together the associations of those seated for the evening's banquet.

Supt. William McClain responded to the subject "German pedagogical psychology," finding it an easy matter to convince his listeners of the immensely superior system of our American schools over those of Germany. It was a most interesting subject and cleverly handled.

Impressions and lessons of the recent war was the dominant thought of a forceful short address made by Mr. John Logan. The speaker closed very effectively by reading "In Flander's Field" and "The Reply."

One of the most interesting toasts was that of Mr. Henry Brownell. He had found as a member of the invitation committee, "that each person invited believed his or her part in the war chest campaign to have been too small to have availed benefit, yet these same individual efforts had combined to the success of magnificent results. He enlarged upon this thought following the reading of a letter from Capt. O. E. Hardway, overseas.

In closing the toasts Hon. C. A. told voiced the appreciation of the War Council for the efforts put forth by the various organizations.

Rev. J. L. McWilliams pronounced the invocation.

The banquet was given under the personal supervision of Chairman M. S. Daugherty and his associates of the Fayette County War Council, who individually bore the expenses of the banquet. Two recently returned soldiers, Emmerson Chapman and Ray Post, were among the guests.

EMBARGO AT EAST BUFFALO

(By Associated Press)

Buffalo, December 28.—A temporary embargo on the receipt of hogs went into effect at the East Buffalo stockyards today and will continue until Sunday night. The reason was excessive receipts, totaling about 100,000 head for the current week. The receipts for the same period a year ago were 22,000.

A want ad will do it for you.

POEM FOR TODAYTHE GREATER THING

Build thou the Spirit's templed home
 But then, require and wait the sign!

Is the dome for the shrine, or the shrine for the dome?

Is the shrine for the lamp, or the lamp for the shrine?

And the lamp—of alabaster rare—
 Is the flame for the lamp, or the lamp for the flame?

To that ardent ambush in the air
 A farthing candle were the same!

Is the Dream thine that haunts thee
 so—

With sidelong smile and subtle stir?

Or art thou but the Dream's—to go
 Whither it will, its servitor?

And Love—say, dost thou count it thine,

Who wist a beggar ere it came?

Or art thou Love's—the lamp, the shrine

And Love the very altar-flame?

Thyself!—However thou didst plan,
 Thou art not anywise thine own!

But thou art greater, by a span,
 Than ere this truth by thee was known.

May thy sight tell thee—single, true,
 Past each world-semblance that deludes,

Which thing is greater of the two—
 Because the other includes!

—Edith M. Thomas.

TAXES ARE COMING IN QUITE RAPIDLY

The payment of taxes is proceeding quite rapidly, and the total paid in up to December 28th was $65,590.11, and to this amount will be added thousands of dollars daily until the books close in the near future.

It is expected that from now onward each day will be a very busy one at the treasurer's office, and that those who put off paying until the last minute will stand in line during the usual rush.

WHILE WAITING AT THE CROSSING

While the train is passing you have time to think over many things. Some of them are: Work and late hours the night before are punk companions. Comfort in the future is had only by preparing for it TODAY. Saving never caused sorrow. Bank accounts and Opportunity are great pals. Health and happiness are all around you—pick them up. The pasture "over the fence" looks greener—but it may be swamp land. Wealth and waste never traveled on the same road. "A good fellow" is awfully lonesome when he's down and out.

PRESIDENT IS HONORED BY ENGLANDState Banquet of Regal Appointments Given in His Honor by King George*Remarkable Event Attended by Every Foreign Ambassador to Court of St. James

London, December 28.—The environment of President Wilson's second day in England was quieter than that of the first day. The only ceremonial event was a state banquet in Buckingham Palace, which was notable not only as a spectacle such as probably no other court in Europe can provide the setting for, but from the representative character of the men summoned to meet the head of the American government.

Besides the members of the royal family, the official world was represented by the foreign ambassadors to the court of St. James, the heads of the governments, present and past chiefs of the army and navy, colonial officials and members of the royal household. There also were present dignitaries of the Church of England representatives of universities and men high up in the worlds of literature, art and journalism.

President Wilson escorted Queen

At Mrs. Wilson's left sat Princess Mary, the Italian ambassador, Princess Beatrice and the Japanese ambassador, in the order named. The American Ambassador, John W. Davis, had the first place at a side rectangular table on President Wilson's right.

Prior to the dinner President and Mrs. Wilson were escorted from their apartments to the great white drawing room, where the royal family had gathered with their other guests. These guests were presented to President and Mrs. Wilson and the dinner party immediately proceeded to the dining hall.

The scene was one of splendor. In the dining salon was a great collection of gold plate and huge gold ornaments valued at $15,000,000. These had been brought from the vaults for the occasion. One of these buffets contained pieces of plate too large or otherwise too cumbersome for use. These included one piece of great size taken from the wreck of the Spanish Armada.

In color the gold-laden table blended with the decorations in the hall, which are white and gold with crimson carpet and upholstery to match. The crimson effect was further carried out by the exclusive use of poinsettias as floral decorations. In the balcony at the end of the room was a military orchestra, not hidden from view by floral or other decorations. The attendants were in full state dress, which was heavy with gold lace.

The banquet hall, which is 200 feet long by 75 feet wide, was approached by the guests through the state hall.

way approximately a block long, richly furnished and decorated with paintings and porcelain. The banquet hall occasionally is used for banquets and other purposes and has a throne at one end.

The main table was arranged so that the backs of President Wilson and King George were toward the throne.

Decorations Are Simple

The permanent decorations seemed strikingly simple when compared with the regal table. The only art on the walls was one Gobelin tapestry. On each side six cut glass chandeliers hung from the extremely high ceiling, but for the banquet 128 candles in gold candelabra, each surmounted by a pink silk shade, were used. Other light was obtained from fancy wall fixtures.

The general body of the guests preceded the royal family and the presidential and ambassadorial guests into the banquet hall. They rose and remained standing while the main guests and the hosts entered in procession.

BACK LIKE A BOARD? IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

There's no use suffering from the awful agony of lame back. Don't wait till it "passes off." It only comes back. Find the cause and stop it. Diseased conditions of kidneys are usually indicated by stiff lame backs and other wrenching pains, which are nature's signals for help!

Here's the remedy. When you feel the first twinges of pain or experience any of these symptoms, get busy at once. Go to your druggist and get a box of the pure, original GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules, imported fresh every month from the laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. Pleasant and easy to take, they instantly attack the poisonous germs clogging your system and bring quick relief.

For over two hundred years they have been helping the sick. Why not try them? Sold everywhere by reliable druggists in sealed packages. Three sizes. Money back if they do not help you. Ask for "GOLD MEDAL" and be sure the name "GOLD MEDAL" is on the box.

Why The Huns Quit

As the censorship curtains are pulled farther back into the wings of the world's great stage, revealing, more and more, the settings for the great war drama which has just been concluded, we begin to see why Germany, with large "undestroyed" armies in the field, with "the natural fortifications of the Rhine" to retreat to, with the armies still fighting on foreign soil, with its great fleet secure in Kiel harbor, sought terms of an armistice and consented to ignominious surrender.

The talkative former crown prince of Germany has stated that the military leaders seemed suddenly to be panic stricken and willing to accept any terms they could secure.

As one by one the military secrets are made public we can see the thing, and the only thing that could bring a change—fear.

We learn now that the allies were prepared to drop enormous bombs upon fleets and cities and armies, so terrible in their resultant explosions that no military organization could combat them.

That's one thing. There are many others yet to be disclosed.

News of Interest to Women

Surprising and interesting many friends comes the announcement of the marriage of Miss Nello Marie Marshall, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Marshall, and Mr. H. B. Patterson, of the firm of Watt and Patterson, leading dry goods merchants of Wilmington, which took place Saturday morning at nine o'clock.

Rev. J. L. McWilliams performed the ceremony at his home.

The bride and bridegroom were accompanied by the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred Wilson, and daughter, Margaret, of South Solon, and Mr. Will Taylor, of Wilmington.

The bride, an attractive young woman of versatile accomplishments was looking handsome in a brown travelling suit, with brown top coat, taupe furs, hat and shoes to match. Since the death of her parents and the departure of her only brother, Maurice, for overseas service, Mrs. Patterson has spent most of her time in South Solon with her sister, recently returning from an extended stay in Chicago.

The bridegroom has a large acquaintance, both business and personal, in Washington and will share with the bride in the warm good wishes of many friends here as well as in his home town, where he is greatly liked as a dependable business man and all round good fellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left by auto for a short trip, expecting to take a more extended one later. Upon returning to Wilmington they will occupy an apartment now in readiness, in the Shriever flat.

The Mothers' Club will enjoy a holiday meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Blessing Monday afternoon. It will be purely social, convening at half past two o'clock.

A miscellaneous program in charge of the President, Mrs. Pearl Darlington was the feature of the regular Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. meeting held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eva McCoy.

Mrs. Augusta Haines lead the devotionals, and gave a report of the Christmas gifts purchased for the children at the Children's Home.

Two well written papers were read "A Personal Message From the Western Front" by Mrs. Eva McCoy and "Impossible People" by Mrs. Mattie McCoy. The latter one afforded interesting discussion.

Dorothy McCoy entertained the women with a recitation, "A Most Obliging Little Sister," and music was furnished by Mrs. Mattie McCoy and Miss Martha Minnick.

Light refreshments were served.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Moody delightfully entertained at their home in Milledgeville Thursday night with an old-fashioned taffy pulling and corn popping.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ford and daughter Miss Ethel, Misses Mary and Ruth Armstrong and Iris Coil of Milledgeville, Misses Lena, Mary, Edna, and May Smith, Marie Sattou, of near Grace Chapel, and Mildred Dun of Columbus.

Miss Helen Besler, daughter of the President of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, is probably the most proposed-to girl in France today. It all came about because one night in one of the American camps she ran out of encores and sang a little nursery song called "If No One Ever Marries Me." It goes like this:

If no one ever marries me,—
And I don't see why they should,
For nurse says I'm not pretty,
And I'm seldom very good,—

The dreiful fate of the little girl in the song was to be to buy a rabbit hutch and live all alone in a little wood. But the American soldiers saw no reason why Miss Besler, who is pretty and petite and a typical American girl, should have a similar lot. After they had given her the three cheers and the tiger with which they usually thank the Y. M. C. A. entertainers, they hesitated a moment and then added a purely personal message.

"Barkis is willin'," called the A. E. P. as one man.

Since then the incident has been repeated in every American camp Miss Besler has assisted. No censor would allow an estimate of the number of proposals she has received in that way to pass.—Chillicothe News Advertiser.

Silk shirts, socks and stockings are waiting to be listed as semi-luxuries when the two branches of the United States Government meet for final agreement on the new war revenue bill.

The U. S. Senate has decided to put a ten per cent tax not only on silk hose but a number of other semi-luxuries also.

"Men's, women's, misses' and boys' pajamas, nightgowns and underwear, 10 per cent tax on the amount in excess of $5 each," cried a senator, who said he knew where the line between luxuries and semi-luxuries should be drawn.

On picture frames a 10 per cent tax will be levied on purchase prices in excess of $10 each; trunks in excess of $50 each; valises, traveling bags, suitcases, hat boxes, fitted toilet cases, on amounts in excess of $25 each.

And the dapper-looking silk shirts are to be taxed 10 per cent, too, if they exceed $3 in price, which they probably will. Percival, who buys a $10 shirt next year, may be charged $10.70 for it.

Women's and misses' silk hose which sell for more than $2 a pair are to cost $2.20. Hosiery under that price may go on as merrily as a babbling brook, but the tax in stockings hits harder than in other merchandise, owing to the increase in hosiery prices during the last two years. A man must pay 10 per cent tax on the value of hose in excess of $1.

Umbrellas, parasols, and sunshades which are priced at more than $4, also are to be called to account.

And she who has felt the luxury of shoes soaring to the skies in prices will find herself asked to pay a 10 per cent sum on the amount in excess of $10.

Other semi-luxuries, which are doomed to taxation in the act are fans costing more than $1, smoking jackets selling for more than $5, pocket-books marked in excess of $7.50.

The yield on the semi-luxury tax is estimated at $100,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Graves, of the Lewis pike, entertained with an elegant dinner Xmas day. The table was decorated with beautiful potted cyclamen and the house throughout with brilliant red and green, so suggestive of the Christmas season.

The following guests were seated with the host and hostess: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Powers, son Elden and daughter Betty Jane of South Charleston, Miss Ella Ford, Mr. Fred Graves and Mr. Frank Ford of London, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Ludwick and son Howard Emerson of Chillicothe, Mr. Todd Hays, Mr. Jacob Smith and Master Ronald Cornwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hays pleasantly entertained Friday at dinner Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk, daughters Misses Mabel and Harriet Kirk, of New Holland, Dr. and Mrs. Cary Persinger, Misses Helen and Mary Persinger, both home from Oberlin College for the vacation and Miss Berz Goddard, home from Boston, Mass., for the holidays.

An affair of both interest and pleasure is promised to the congregation and friends of the First Presbyterian church in a "Get Together" social, which will be given under the auspices of the Doman's Guild of the church, Tuesday night, New Year's Eve, for the purpose of meeting and welcoming Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McWilliams.

Invitations are extended to all who desire to attend for seven o'clock.

In compliment to their guests, Daisy Draise and Maude Ritenhouse of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Crawford entertained with an exceedingly pretty Christmas party at their home on Clinton avenue Friday evening.

Twenty young people chiefly confined to the Dahl-Campbell sales and office force, found the evening altogether delightful.

A profusion of cut flowers gave added Yuletide brightness to the attractive home and Victrola music and dancing were foremost in the evening's diversions. Miss Ruth Davenport and Miss Zelma Reno won the prizes in amusing contests. Delicious refreshments were served and punch on tapis all evening.

The local W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Baptist church. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Van Gundy.

After the devotional and business session the following program was enjoyed.

Mrs. Reno read an excellent paper and Mrs. VanGundy a poem as a fitting climax to the paper. Mrs. Stafford gave a short talk about things to be thankful for the past year. A number of the members spoke briefly in regard to the work.

The president then read from the Union Signal as follows:

"In the celebrations that welcome our troops from abroad many men in uniform have been given intoxicating drinks," Secretary Baker said. "This is contrary to law. It is a breach of military discipline. It is an injury to the returning troops."

"A drunken soldier is a disgrace to his uniform, an insult to the flag, a shame to himself, and a danger to the community. No loyal citizen who has the interest of the men at heart will offer them the temptation of inebriety. I appeal to the friends of our boys from the front to discourage this abuse of hospitality."

"Our army in service has had a record for cleanness and sobriety of which the country has the right to be proud. I appeal to that pride to help the men live up to their record."

Miss Susan Gore has been the guest of Miss Mary Dahl, returning to her home in Hillsboro Friday.

Mrs. Lucy Jenkins Franklin, Probation Officer, is recovering from a severe attack of the influenza at her home on East Paint street.

Miss Nina Dahl returned to her studies in Columbus Friday after a Christmas visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dahl.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Stewart returned to her home in Portsmouth after spending Christmas with Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Haines on the Circleville pike.

Miss Florence Willis and Mr. Howard Willis of Springfield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Carl Thursday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cherrington and son, Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington visited Mr. Ernest Cherrington and Mrs. Clione Cherrington Bailey in Westerville over Christmas. Mrs. Cherrington remained for a longer visit. Rev. Cherrington returned Saturday morning, stopping over in Columbus Friday to attend an important meeting of the "Centenary Movement," and banquet at Memorial Hall at which Bishop Thomas C. Nickelson, of Chicago and Rev. Ralph E. Diefendorf of New York spoke.

Mrs. Beatrice McQuire, who accompanied her sister, Mrs. R. B. McClure from Pittsburg, Pa., the first of the week, for a Christmas visit, returned to her home Saturday morning.

Capt. H. D. Rand has received his honorable discharge from Camp Sherman and, after spending Christmas with his family here, left Friday for his former home, Painesville, and Cleveland, in one of which cities he expects to locate. His family joins him in a couple of weeks.

Mr. J. M. Keach and family of Port William, were the guests of Miss Rachel Keach, an aunt, Friday.

Washington friends of Mr. William Green, son of Mr. W. F. Green, of Cunningham, will be interested to hear of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Green at their home in Alberta Ca.

Pvt. Ralph Penn is over from Dayton spending a Christmas furlough with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Story went to Cleveland Friday morning to spend several days with Mr. Story's sister, Mrs. W. D. Fullerton. Mary Anne Story is visiting her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Howard in Circleville during her parents absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Pope of the Prairie Pike were business visitors in London the last of the week.

Riva Saum of Greenfield is the week end guest of O'Garra Garringer.

Miss Lina Willis returned to Washington, D. C. Friday night after a short Christmas visit with her mother Mrs. Carrie B. Willis.

Mrs. Alonzo L. Moore and daughter Miss Opal, and son, Cyril, motored to Columbus Saturday to see "Chin Chin" at the Hartman Theatre.

Miss Dorothy Rogers spent the past two days in Columbus, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. D. C. Amburg.

Mrs. Frances Brown Bargar entertained as Christmas guests Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coffey and daughter, Miss Gladys, of Good Hope.

Mrs. E. J. Dickerson has gone to her home in Chillicothe, to the regret of many friends, after spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dickerson. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dickerson, of Bourneville, were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dickerson's guests this week.

Mr. Earl Black has received his discharge from military service and spent Christmas the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Williams enroute to Baltimore, Md., to visit his grand mother before resuming his former position in Cincinnati.

Miss Armetha Lieuellen is back from Akron to spend the holidays.

Miss Opal Stanforth, who is attending Dennison University at Granville is spending the vacation with her aunt, Mrs. G. C. Kidner.

with friends here. Friday she was the guest of Mrs. C. U. Armstrong.

Mrs. James Webb is critically ill at her home on Circle avenue.

Mr. Ernest Woodward is home from Columbus spending Sunday.

Mrs. Loren Sever and daughter, Marjorie came down from Columbus Saturday morning to visit relatives and friends.

HAD THE GOODS FACES THE COURT

After several nights' vigil in the local yards of the B. & O. Detective Lieurance succeeded in picking up Don Seabury with a push cart containing 230 pounds of coal which had been taken from a B. & O. car in the yards.

According to Detective Lieurance Seabury had been in the habit of visiting the coal cars quite frequently, but had always succeeded in eluding the waiting sleuth until about eight o'clock Friday night when the officer took a circuitous route in reaching the yards and this threw his man off the track so thoroughly that the push cart by actual weight, contained 230 pounds of coal when the detective pounced upon his man.

An affidavit charging theft of the coal was filed before Judge Allen in Probate Court, and the man's hearing was set for Saturday.

BRITISH TAKE DESTROYERS OF BOLSHEVISTS

Destroyers Were Bombarding Lighthouses When John Bull's Ships Got Them

(By Associated Press)

London, December 28.—The British warship Calypso has captured 2 Bolshevik destroyers in the eastern Baltic, according to an official report from the admiralty. One of the destroyers was engaged in bombarding the lighthouse in the vicinity of Reval.

The officers and men on board the destroyers were made prisoners. No casualties occurred on the Calypso, according to the reports reaching the admiralty. The Calypso was commanded by Captain Betram S. Thesiger.

The British admiralty is prepared to take drastic measures against the propagation of Bolshevism in that that part of the German front remaining in German hands, according to a Berlin dispatch today. The sinking of vessels displaying the red flag and the execution of crews infected with Bolshevism are threatened, it is declared.

The text of the order attributed to the British admiralty by the Germans reads:

"Vessels under the red flag will be sunk without warning. Vessels without officers will be dealt with in accordance with the laws of war. If a single man is caught propagating Bolshevism ideas the entire crew of the vessels in question will be shot."

The allied governments since Christmas have again been approached by the Bolshevik government of Russia regarding terms of peace. These differ in no respect from those put forward by M. Litvinoff, formerly Bolshevik ambassador at London through the Norwegian government in November. The proposals have met with no response, as they emanate from a government which is not recognized by the allies. The whole Russian question is at present under discussion by the allied governments.

Reuter's Limited learns that the alleged British admiralty order regarding Bolshevism in the German fleet, received from Berlin by way of Amsterdam today, is "a tissue of falsehoods."

STOCKHOLDERS OF FAYETTE CREAMERY VOTE TO SELL PLANT

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Fayette County Creamery Company, held at the Probate Judge's office, Saturday afternoon, the stockholders ratified the action of the Executive Committee which recently gave an option on the plant to The Sunlight Creameries, the mammoth concern which has been negotiating for a location in this city.

The option granted by the executive committee of the Fayette County Creamery Company is a short term one, and if accepted by the big concern, which there is reason to believe it will be, the deal will be finally closed within the next few days.

Highly Respected Woman of Near Buena Vista Ends Life Today After Worrying Over Disease.

Family and Friends Are Broken-hearted by Rash Act.

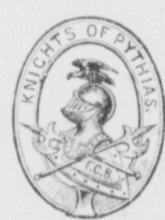

Seriously afflicted by the influenza from which she was recovering, and confronted by the possible addition of smallpox to the sufferings of her family, Mrs. Ben H. Coffey, aged 40 years, about 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning ended her life by drinking carbolic acid and then slashing her throat with a butcher-knife, severing the jugular vein and dying within a few moments.

The tragedy occurred at the Coffey home nine mile south of this city on the Leesburg pike, and while the husband was ill with the influenza and possibly smallpox.

For some little time Mrs. Coffey had been despondent, but the family was wholly unprepared for the terrible tragedy enacted when, without a word of warning she retired to an upstairs room and there committed the rash act. The keen blade of the big knife severed the jugular vein and it was not until her struggles attracted the attention of members of the family that they rushed into the room and were thunderstruck by the awful sight confronting them.

Mr. Coffey has been ill in bed for several days, it is understood, and the other two members of the family a son, Bryan, and a daughter, Jessie

BIG EXPANSION OF U. S. TRADE AMONG LATINS

America Sending More Than One Half of Goods Imported by South American Countries

Precautions Must Be Taken to Safeguard Business

(By Associated Press)
New York, December 28.—United States manufacturers and exporters have increased their trade in Brazil and other South American countries by more than 160 per cent since the beginning of the war, according to J. W. Sanger, Trade Commissioner of the United States, Government Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, who recently returned from a survey of the business opportunities south of the equator.

"Imagine ten large stores in one big city and one of these stores doing more business than all the other nine combined," declared Mr. Sanger, "and that will give you some idea of the position we are in today. It is an amazing record. We are now selling South American countries more than half of everything they import. Our total export trade is now counted in billions of dollars."

The Commissioner said that "with the signing of a peace treaty a practical certainty within six months or a year, it is not a day too soon to begin making definite plans to meet the keen competition in foreign trade that must come almost immediately." The hundreds of millions of dollars invested in new factories and ships, he said, mean that America must find fresh outlets for her enterprise and industry.

"We need more and better direct representation of our manufacturers in the important trade centers of Brazil and other South American countries," he said. "This may come about through taking the fullest advantage of the new Webb Export Trade Act or in other practical ways. We also need a fast and regular freight service to every important port of Latin America," said Mr. Sanger. Without it we will be as crippled as a department store that depends upon casual messenger boys to make its deliveries. Then again we must be prepared to meet the actual needs of these countries regarding the extension of credits.

"The biggest single incentive to foreign trade is foreign investments. Unfortunately our holdings in South America are practically negligible. In a short time our immense surplus capital will seek investment, Brazil in particular, needs this capital and will pay us handsomely for it."

BRAZIL GREAT COUNTRY
"How many people in the United States know that Brazil alone is larger than all the United States; yet, except for its thinly settled coast line, is practically untouched? It is one of the richest countries in the world and is destined to develop along similar lines to our own country in the past hundred years. It has every natural resource that we had and, in addition, others that nature did not give us. Our talking machines, typewriters, sewing machines, safety razors and a multitude of other American products are standard with Brazilians today. It is up to us to make just as well known the thousands of other products that we make and that they need just as much."

To accomplish this, Mr. Sanger said, it was necessary for American manufacturers to advertise their goods "down there." In South America, he said, advertising methods are crude and much as they were in the United States 30 or more years ago.

"We have scarcely even begun to use this power, this promotor of sales and good will, in South America," continued Mr. Sanger. "I have unmistakable evidence that the people of that country respond amazingly even to the crude forms of advertising offered them."

FIELD IS FERTILE

"Buenos Aires, the capital of Argentina, has splendid newspapers with circulations ranging around 150,000 daily. Brazilian dailies have proven excellent mediums for advertising."

"The biggest thing that could happen to advertising down there would be for broad-gauged American advertising men, to take more interest in it. These countries await the stimulus of American advertising genius properly adjusted to meet their needs. But let the American advertising men put this in their note books, Spanish is the language of all South America except Brazil, where Portuguese is spoken. Brazilians are offended if you write or speak to them in Spanish."

O'LOUGHLIN DEAD

"SILK" O'LOUGHLIN

Francis "Silk" O'Loughlin, noted umpire of the American League died with double pneumonia at his home in Boston. He was recently stricken with influenza and the disease quickly developed into pneumonia. O'Loughlin has been connected with the Department of Justice since the close of the last baseball season. His wife, who was also ill from influenza is recovering.

ABANDON CENSORSHIP

(By Associated Press)
Paris, December 28.—According to The Temps, Premier Clemenceau intends shortly to recommend to the cabinet the suppression of the political censorship in France and of the retaining of control only over military news. This step, the newspaper adds, probably will be taken before the peace preliminaries begin.

TROUBLE IN ABYSSINIA

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 28.—Report from Cairo received at the state department today says trouble has arisen in Abyssinia. It is reported that the Abyssinian government is sending troops to aid the Christians against the Muslims.

LODGE PROTEST OVER MONOPOLY PLAN IN EAST

(By Associated Press)
Peking, Dec. 28.—The American legation has lodged a protest with the Chinese governmental authorities against the sanctioning of an export and import monopoly by a Chinese limited liability company, plans for which were put forward by Tao Jui-ling, acting Minister of Finance, and Tien Wen-lich, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce.

The company is to have a capitalization of $5,000,000 with shareholders limited to Chinese citizens, and is to begin operations immediately the shares are subscribed. The objects as set forth in the Official Gazette are to "deal in all sorts of raw and manufactured articles both export and import and to act as agents for the government, for companies for business firms or individuals in handling both exports and imports."

Article six of the "Regulations" contains the feature to which especial objection is made by the American Legation as a direct contravention of American treaty rights on the ground that it creates a monopoly which would effectively shut out all competition by American firms or corporations in the Chinese market. The article provides:

"All commodities which can be exported or imported only on special permits from the government shall be handled by the company by special permits."

"When the Government or any organization under the control of the Government needs articles, this company shall be appointed the agent by special permit to purchase the goods required."

Another article provides that when the government wishes to "stimulate" trade in any native products "it shall notify the company of the fact and shall 'order the company to take measures to increase the import or export as a part of its obligation.'"

DRASTIC ACTION BY JAPANESE

(By Associated Press)
Tokio, December 28.—The new Hara cabinet has taken a drastic move to solve the rice situation by removing the import tax on foreign rice. This measure has proved a great relief to the Japanese people and tends to lessen the hardship resulting from the exorbitant price of cereals. Governmental booths are now set up in all parts of Tokio for the distribution of rice to the poor at moderate prices.

FRENCH ATTACK WITH BIG GUNS

(By Associated Press)
Odessa, December 18.—There has been sharp fighting throughout the city for several hours today in which 5000 French troops participated. French cannon on the water front and the big guns of the French battleship Justice are firing over the city bombarding the republican camp beyond. It is impossible as yet to estimate the casualties or to determine the exact control of any quarter of the city with the exception of the water front.

LARGE MONUMENT WILL BE ERECTED FOR INDIAN CHIEF

Chief Logan's Memory To Be Perpetuated by the Erection of Granite Obelisk
Near Logan Elm in Pickaway.

A monument is to be erected to the memory of Chief Logan, of the Delaware, whose name has been a household word in this part of the state from the earliest days. It is to be erected at Logan elm park above Kingston, near which place Logan's cabin is said to have stood, and near which he made his famous reply to Lord Dunmore's messenger who came to ask the old chief why he refused to attend the peace treaty meeting at Camp Charlotte, about 7 miles southeast of Circleville.

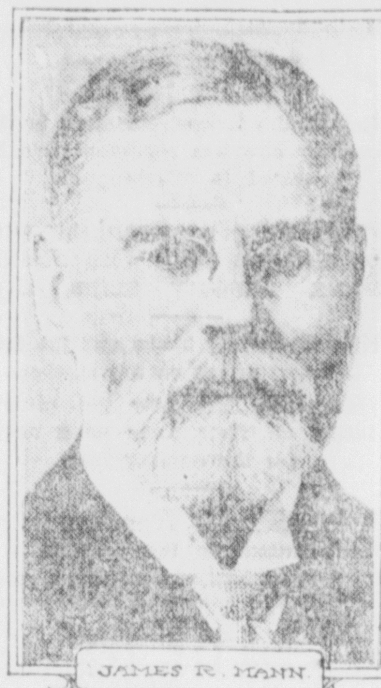

The monument is to be a huge plain granite shaft, about 10 or 11 feet high, on a heavy pedestal, supported on either side by a rough-hewn granite buttress. On one side of the shaft will be reproduced Logan's famous speech; on the other side will be a brief biography of Logan. Near the top of the shaft on one side will be a circular bronze tablet, set into the stone, bearing a representation of the Logan elm; on the opposite side will be a bronze tablet with the head of an Indian upon it. Of course there exists no likeness of old Logan, but from descriptions, the known physical characteristics of the Delaware, their distinctive head-dress, etc., it is believed a close representation of him can be made. The ethnographic bureau of the department of the Interior will be communicated with in an effort to get the head as accurate as possible.

The erection of the monument is made possible by a public subscription among the residents in the neighborhood of the Logan elm park. It is hoped to have the monument erected and ready for unveiling by April or May.

The region around the Logan elm was the center of the Shawnee tribe. Several Indian towns were erected on the Scioto, on Congo and Scioppo creeks. In August, 1774, Lord Dunmore, then colonial governor of Virginia, gathered a force of men to come to the Scioto valley and destroy the Shawnee towns. The force, about 3,000, was in two parts, one division under Dunmore coming to the Ohio above Wheeling. The other, about 1100 men, under Col. Andrew Lewis, marched to the mouth of the Great Kanawha, where the village of Point Pleasant is located. Here they were attacked by the Shawnees, under the famous Chief Cornstalk, whose town was near the Logan elm.

The fight took place on October 10, and lasted all day, the Indians fighting with great determination. Losses on both sides were heavy, and during the night the Indians withdrew. Lewis and his men followed and reached Congo creek. Before they could attack, however, a messenger from Dunmore, who had reached the spot called Camp Charlotte, ordered him not to do so. A treaty was made with the Shawnees, and when Logan refused to attend the council, Dunmore sent a messenger, a trader named Gibson, to ask him why he refused. It was then that Logan delivered the speech which was long held a model of eloquence and used to be included in all the school readers.

OPPOSING MANN

The entrance of Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, into the fight for the Speakership of the next House, against Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, gives promise of a hot fight among the Republicans. Mr. Gillette announced that his candidacy had been unanimously endorsed by the representatives of the Massachusetts delegation and had received assurance of support from many others. It is reported that the Anti-Saloon League is preparing to make a fight against Mr. Mann because he fought the Hobson "dry" resolution some years ago.

PRINCE REVEALS LETTERS TO BILL

Paris, December 28.—Prince Albert of Monaco has given to the Associated Press a remarkable letter he has addressed to former Emperor William, which promises to rival the notable revelations made by Prince Liechtenowsky, German ambassador at London, at the outbreak of the war, and Dr. Muehlen, the former Krupp director.

The letter gives textually many conversations with the ex-emperor on his war projects and also a number of letters addressed to the prince as "My dear cousin" and signed, "Your highness, devoted friend, cousin and admirer, William I. R."

The conversations cover years of close intimacy, during which Prince Albert was a frequent guest of the emperor at Berlin and Kiel and at the emperor's summer palace on the island of Corfu. The prince's letter to "His majesty, William II," addresses the former German ruler directly throughout as "Sire." It recalls their conversations, in which the emperor expressed his ideas for Germany's future and then gives the successive steps in which he yielded to the military element.

RED CROSS SANTA

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 28.—Six thousand stockings filled with candy tobacco and other articles were distributed Christmas day to American troops stationed in the vicinity of Archangel by the American Red Cross. A cablegram received today at Red Cross headquarters said school children of Archangel aided in filling the stockings, which were sent to the soldiers by sled transport. In return for their assistance the Red Cross provided a noonday luncheon for thousands of the children.

ULTIMATUM IS SENT BY POLES

Warsaw, December 28.—The Polish government has issued an ultimatum to Germany, demanding the right of passage by Polish troops over German-held railways to Vilna, which city is threatened by the Bolsheviks. The ultimatum was sent to the German generals, Hoffman and Von Falkenhayn by General Shchetsky, chief of the Polish general staff, who acted under instructions given him by General Joseph Pilsudski, military head of the Polish government.

Owing to the difficulties of communicating with Berlin, the Germans asked an extension of the time in which an answer to the ultimatum was required.

GREAT NUMBERS OF NATIVES STARVE

(By Associated Press)
New York, December 28.—Thousands of Armenians are destitute and starving throughout Persia and hundreds of thousands of dollars monthly are needed to provide for them, according to cable messages from representatives of the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, made public by the organization here.

In all parts of the Caucasus territory, the message said, conditions are pitiable, while at Mosul there are 10,000 women and children refugees from Turkey. The reports said there are 30,000 destitute at Tabriz, where 2000 Christian refugees need immediate aid. At Sojbulak, it was reported, 10,000 Kurds are starving. The famine conditions will prevail until the next harvest except for outside relief.

GERMANS LEAVE

(By Associated Press)
London, December 28.—"Under pressure from the entente," says a German wireless dispatch received today, the German ambassador to Turkey and his staff have left Constantinople. They are expected to reach Genoa on Saturday.

WHAT THEY WORE AT STATE BANQUET

London, December 28. — Queen Mary wore a cream-colored gown of silk with a long train and a tiara of diamonds and many other jewels. Mrs. Wilson's dress was black with sparkles and was made at the White House. She wore very few jewels.
 The military and naval officers were in service uniforms and wore their swords. The ambassadors were in full ambassadorial uniform. President Wilson and Ambassador Davis wore formal American evening clothes. The British civilian guests wore court dress and the insignia of many orders.

EXCHANGE TOASTS

London, December 28. — Two toasts that will go down in history as being spoken by the heads of the two great English-speaking nations at a time which marks a new epoch for mankind were uttered in Buckingham Palace at the great state banquet given by the King and Queen of Britain to President Wilson.

Here are the toasts:
 King George: "I drink to the health of the President of the United States and Mrs. Wilson and to the happiness and prosperity of the great American nation."
 President Wilson: "May I not, sir, with a feeling of profound sincerity and friendship and sympathy, propose your own health and the health of the Queen and the prosperity of Great Britain."

FARM NOTES

Winter Mushrooms.

There is one wild mushroom, the Velvet-stemmed Collybia, which is often rather plentiful during the winter months. It may be found from October to May and was fairly abundant during December, 1918. On account of the mild weather thus far this season, it is also very likely to occur during spells of mild weather in January and February.
 This mushroom is easily recognized by the tan-colored cap, the velvety-brown stem which fades out to nearly white at the top, the white or cream-colored gills on the lower sides of the cap, and the habit of growing in dense clusters of dead wood. The cap varies somewhat in its shades of color from light yellowish-brown to reddish-brown. During wet weather it is very sticky so that leaves and dirt adhere to it. These can be easily picked or washed off, however. The mushrooms grow in clusters on trees, stumps, fallen logs, or buried wood of elm, willow, maple, basswood, and other deciduous trees. They have even been found in cities.

On account of the season in which they grow, there will probably be little danger of confusing them with poisonous kinds. No specimens should be eaten, however, which do not conform to the description just given. No decaying caps should be gathered, but dried or shriveled caps will usually freshen up while being washed. Freezing does not seem to injure their edibility.

The Velvet-stemmed Collybia has an excellent flavor, and is, in fact, one of the best of our edible mushrooms. The best way of cooking it is to wash thoroughly, then parboil for thirty minutes in water to which a little salt may be added and fry it with a steak in plenty of butter. The stems should be rejected unless very young. Another way is to fry them for about fifteen minutes in butter or bacon fat after parboiling. They may be served on toast or as a separate dish. —W. G. Stover, Department of Botany.
